

THE NORWAY ADVERTISER

Coming Events.

Aug. 17—Socialist meeting, South Paris.
Aug. 18—Socialist meeting, Oxford.
Aug. 19—Socialist meeting, Norway.
Aug. 19—Base Ball Tournament, Fair Ground, Norway-South Paris.
Aug. 19—Auction, Mrs. Olive Kimball, Horn Farm, Norway.
Aug. 24—Campmeeting, Poland camp ground, Aug. 24—Rendell 32d Maine, Little Diamond Island.
Aug. 29—Remembrance teachers and pupils, Webster School.
Sept. 19, 20, 21—Oxford County Fair, Norway and South Paris.
Sept. 26, 27, 28—Androscoggin Valley, Canton.
Oct. 3, 4, 5—West Oxford Fair, Fryeburg.

New Advertisements
Want advertisements.....Pages 2 and 3
Elles Business College.....Page 6
Insurance—C. E. Tolman & Co....." 6
Children's dresses—Thomas Sully....." 6
A leader—James N. Farrow....." 6
Laces—S. B. & Z. S. Prince....." 6
Pickering season—F. A. Shurtlett....." 6
$5.00—Wm. O. Leavitt....." 6
Black petticoats—L. M. Lunt....." 6
Shoreline sale—James Smith Shoe Store....." 6
Shamrock oil—W. G. Puffer & Co....." 6
Potatoes diggers—Barrows....." 6
Grand trunk railway....." 6
Base ball tournament—Fair grounds....." 6
Wingers—Wm. C. Leavitt....." 6
Cider vinegar—H. J. Bangs....." 6
A short time—F. H. Noyes Co....." 6
Oxford County Agricultural Society....." 6

Base Ball Notes.

West Paris won two games Saturday. The first defeated the Volunteers of South Paris 7 to 0, and afterward defeating Summer 6 to 3.

Bryan's Pond made a fine showing against Portland at South Portland last Saturday. The game was stopped by rain at the close of the fifth inning with the score 1 to 0 for the home team.

OXFORD.

Bullet in His Leg.
Harry Ray, who with his friends was on a hunting and fishing trip up the lake, was brought home early Thursday morning with a bullet in his leg. Dr. R. R. Farris went with him at once to the hospital at Lewiston where the bullet was removed. He is reported as doing well.

Mrs. Simon Yeaton is in very poor health.

Mrs. Jordan of Otisfield is in town on business, Tuesday Post and Ladies' Relief Corps held their annual picnic at Caldwell's grove Wednesday.

Mrs. Eliah Averill was badly burned with hot water while washing last Thursday, and is a great sufferer.

Mrs. Chas. Davis of Highland Farm is another thoughtful sister who drives her own team and goes about doing good.

Mrs. Ethel B. Polkinghorne of Brighton, Mass., has been the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Bean, for the past four weeks.

The many friends of Mrs. J. T. Bowser are pleased to learn that she returned from the hospital at Lewiston, Saturday, and is in a fair way to recovery.

Mrs. C. H. Bumpus and Mrs. Chas. McKinnon went to see Mrs. J. T. Bowser and Harry Kay at the Lewiston hospital on Thursday of last week.

Samuel Wardwell, who has been the guest of relatives and friends in town for the past six weeks, returned to his home in Brookton, Mass., Friday.

The reunion of the 25th Maine Regiment Association will be held at Walnut Hill, North Yarmouth, on Tuesday August 22nd. All members and their families are invited to be present.

Hattie Andrews went to Gardiner on Wednesday the 18th, to stop awhile with her brother, O. G. Andrews, whose daughter, Hattie G. Andrews, is in the Maine General Hospital at Portland for treatment.

William I. Trebilcock was at home from Waterville over Sunday. Joseph Trebilcock and his friend, Annie Burton, from Lowell, Mass., are guests at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Josiah Trebilcock.

Mrs. A. J. Holden and sister, Hattie Andrews, entertained their Sunday school class at their home on Pleasant street, Wednesday afternoon of last week. Games were played and refreshments served on the lawn. There were 10 little boys and girls present who greatly enjoyed the occasion.

FORE STREET.

June Burr and wife visited in Freeport and Lewiston last week.

Fred Rowe, Jr., came up from Portland, Sunday, to attend his grandmother's funeral.

Mrs. Alton Verrill and Mrs. Sarah Martin visited the day last week at Mr. and Mrs. Verrill's.

Mrs. Frank Cotton is spending a few days in Massachusetts in company with her sister, Mrs. E. Burns.

E. E. Twitcheell and family are spending the week at Mechanic Falls camp-ground attending the camp meeting.

NORTH NEWRY.

Mrs. Sarah Kilgore is gaining fast. Dan Perry has gone to Sunday River to work.

Wade Thurston is at Andover for a week, on business.

Elis Stearns, wife and little son of Bethel, have been in town.

Farmers have finished their haying and report a much smaller crop than last year. Early apples are very scarce in this vicinity.

Percis Foster Daley, who has been living in Gorham, renting a part of Brown block, has just bought a home in Bethel, on Clark street.

W. W. Kilgore is doing a good business in his hotel this year, as usual. Neighbors and friends are glad to see that he is being so successful.

Mary O. Foster, a woman nearly eighty years old, who fell down and dislocated her right shoulder joint, and badly lamed one knee last December, has so far recovered as to be able to spin three skeins of yarn a day and take lots of care of her little granddaughter.

OTISFIELD GORE.

Ida Hill visited her friend Mrs. Ella Bean last Monday.

Mansfield and family are attending campmeeting at Mechanic Falls.

Mrs. and Mr. Mark Pride of Norway visited Mrs. Pride's mother, Mrs. L. T. Brett last Saturday night and Sunday.

Mrs. Lizette Young and two children of Bethel and Mr. and Mrs. O. Barrows of Paris were the guests of A. K. Hill last week.

Quite a party of young men went to Pleasant Mountain blueberrying, last Tuesday and Friday, a jolly time on the road, plenty of nice blueberries, and a good time generally was the report on their return.

WEST PARIS.

Sun and Waste Started Blaze.
A little blaze got started at the depot last Friday afternoon, caused by the heat of the sun on the waste in the oil house. It was quickly extinguished by a pump in connection with the fire protection of the Paris Manufacturing Company.

Leon Olney is visiting his sister, Mrs. Frank Small.

Leona Morrison of Boston is visiting Gertrude Stuart.

Mrs. F. E. Wheeler is visiting in Boston and other places.

Mrs. Hayes and her son from Lewiston are visiting at S. N. Young's.

Ground was broken for the foundation of the new Universalist church last Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Bowker from Massachusetts are visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Albert L. Bowker.

A. R. Bucknam has been quite sick but is now better. He was threatened with rheumatic fever.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Ricker have just returned from a week's visit to their son Arthur's home at Yarmouth.

E. W. Penley shipped a carload of about 30 very musical porkers, Tuesday morning. They were sent to Auburn.

Luther M. Irish has been suffering from an abscess at the base of the thumb on his left hand. It is now on the gain.

Mrs. Norah Barker Coffin of East Weymouth, who was formerly a resident here, made a short visit in town recently.

The Misses Hoyt are now here at the Pines with their father and grandfather, Dr. Bolles. They all take their meals at H. R. Tuck's.

James Edwards of the Edwards City Mission of Auburn will preach at the Free Baptist church, Sunday morning, Aug. 20, at the usual hour.

The West Paris ball team played two games here last Saturday on Whitman's field, the first with South Paris Volunteers and the second with West Summer. West Paris won both games, the first 7 to 6 and the second 6 to 3.

The West Paris Rebekahs have planned for a general picnic to Lake Grove at Lake Auburn for Saturday, Aug. 26th. They will go on the regular Saturday afternoon train.

Five of them are gentlemen from Portland and are working in the corn shop, getting ready for the canning season. Edward Doten is superintending the building of an addition they have been putting on.

The others are Mrs. Ernie, Howard Melkin, Fred McCarty and Clarence Bailey.

Dr. E. C. Bolles preached last Sunday for the Universalist society and will preach again next Sunday, Aug. 20, at 8 o'clock. This is a free gift on his part for the benefit of the church.

His generosity and eloquence are deeply appreciated by the society and friends. A newly organized choir consisting of Mrs. C. H. Bates, soprano; L. M. Irish, tenor; Mrs. Irish, alto; and E. Tuell, bass; furnished music. Della H. Lane is organist and musical director for the services.

BRYANT'S POND.

Walking Clubs.
The walking club managed by Dr. Ralph W. Bucknam are taking some long walks. Last Friday a party climbed Mt. Christopher from the side next the lake. Certainly they had a good warm day for their walk.

Wednesday afternoon a party went up on Oak Hill.

Archie Felt went to Rumford Falls, Wednesday.

Ida Littlehale of North Paris is working for Mrs. Ansel Dudley.

Mrs. Nellie B. Dudley at Dudley Cottage had 34 boarders at last accounts.

Many of the summer boarders have returned to their homes, some having been here three months.

Rev. J. D. Graham, wife and daughter Ruth spent Tuesday at Mrs. Stella Ford's while on their way from Rumford Falls to Lyme, N. H. Mr. Graham is now settled in Massachusetts but has many friends in Maine.

Day and Littlefield are cutting the grove on the town farm.

Clarence Cole is visiting friends at Wintthrop Beach this week.

There was a slight frost Monday morning but not enough to injure corn.

Repairs have recently been made on the corn shop and some new machinery added.

John C. Staples, who has been quite ill the past two weeks with fever, is slowly gaining.

Dr. E. B. Clark is moving to South Paris where he will take the practice of the late Dr. Horatio Woodbury.

James W. Powers and wife are taking a carriage trip by team to Bethel, Vt. The distance is about 200 miles.

George A. England, a Harvard graduate in the class of 1903, has been engaged to teach the fall term of high school.

Among the arrivals in town the past week have been Charles F. Diamond, Wm. McCaw, Robert A. McCaughy, J. F. Earrally, Bristol, R. L. Mrs. Geo. W. Bowker, Helen Hilton, Lewiston, Percy S. Bowker, Mrs. Winnifred Ripley of Wakefield, Mass.

EAST WATERFORD.

Mrs. Minnie Hobbs and son Chas. are visiting at Norway Center.

T. N. Newcomb and Mrs. Williams called at Fred Knightly's Tuesday.

Chas. Knightly is attending campmeeting at Mechanic Falls this week.

Mabel Aldrich of Amesbury, Mass., is visiting this week at Fred Knightly's.

Master Frank Hobbs of Lynn, Mass., has visited his aunt, Mrs. Jennie Howe and Mrs. Alice Knightly a few days and is now visiting friends at North Waterford.

Lewis Merrill and children of South Waterford visited his sisters, Mrs. Jennie Howe and Mrs. Minnie Hobbs, Sunday, also called on his sister, Mrs. Alice Knightly.

Blackberries are getting ripe.

Joe Patterson has been on the sick list.

Merton Young has sold his place to Albert Pennock.

Henry Rolfe, wife and little daughter Mildred visited relatives in Albany over Sunday.

Isa Putnam, after a visit of nearly two weeks with his daughter, Mrs. Alonzo Tuley, has returned to his home in Lewiston.

Fred Edwards, wife, and his sister and husband, and Mr. and Mrs. Sumner Smith of Otisfield visited Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Stanley, Sunday.

Douglass Reunion.

The seventh annual reunion of Miss H. E. Douglass and her pupils on Aug. 9th proved a success as the previous ones have, and rather more in one sense as it brought some who had never been before, but who feel quite sure they will come again. The day was as good as could be wished or expected at this season of the year, when dog days are prevalent.

The old scholars began to file in before ten o'clock, each with his or her basket or box of dinner, not to mention the generous array of bean pots. In an incredible short space of time a goodly company was assembled and the good time commenced. Old friendships, broken these many years, were renewed and "all went merry as a marriage bell."

Dinner was served promptly at noon to which the company did ample justice.

Chairman J. W. Weston called order at 1:30 and also Mr. Scribner. Miss Douglass spoke in her usual interesting and instructive manner. Letters were read from S. B. Edwards and C. H. Westfield, who much regretted that they could not be present. The remarks were made by several of the pupils. Dr. E. A. Wright with his orchestra of four pieces brought forth good music. A song by Mrs. Fred Green, Mrs. A. W. Weston accompanied, was finely rendered. A recitation by little Miss Scribner was very good.

A vote was taken to meet next year, 1906, at about the same time. After all expressed themselves as having enjoyed the day, the company dispersed to their several homes.

BETHEL.

Dr. Morton and T. J. Foster are still very low.

A number of the farmers are still haying, in pleasant weather.

E. B. Goddard is seen on the streets nearly every pleasant day.

The eclipse of the moon Tuesday evening was followed by a heavy rain.

E. C. Park and family returned Tuesday from a week's outing at the shore.

A half dozen autos are now owned in the village and others are coming right along.

Nearly every day is seen at least one auto, at Herriock Bros' machine shop for repairs.

E. C. Bowler and family are on an auto trip, visiting in Palermo and adjoining towns.

C. C. Bryant has had an operation for the relief of his injured hip, at the Lewiston hospital, and is reported improving.

Mrs. A. W. Grover visited her daughter, Mrs. E. H. Pratt, at Oxford, last Monday, returning Tuesday, accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. H. A. Skilling and little daughter Joan, of Harvard, Mass.

A three-horse team at the station, Tuesday afternoon, became frightened at the cars in the excitement they caused by the sound of the horns, and his weight was the means of stopping a further runaway. No serious damage done.

Crowds of berry pickers are going daily to Grover Mountain in Albany, where hundreds of bushels of blueberries have already been gathered. Three years ago the mountain was burned over and this first year, is producing an immense crop of ripe berries.

Middle Intervale.

Visitors from abroad are flocking home this week, it being Old Home Week.

Joseph Spofford was here Sunday to visit relatives. He has been at work in Glad.

Clarence Willis of New Glasgow, Nova Scotia, is doing some work on the Maple and Pine Farm.

Guy Moores of Rumford Falls was in this vicinity recently selling tea and coffee and fancy groceries; also buying eggs.

Mrs. Rose P. Houghtaling of Philadelphia and Master Cecil Smith, of Boston, are now at Bethel Hill with relatives and friends.

WEST SUMMIT.

J. A. Tuell has bought a horse of Freeman Farrar.

A few days last week were called the hottest of the season.

Dr. E. J. Marston returned last Saturday from his vacation.

George A. Chandler went to Lewiston the 10th on business, returning at night.

Freeman Farrar and wife went to Portland last week to the soldiers' reunion.

Lenzie F. Merrill and family of Rumford Falls visited their parents, Hiram Howe and wife, last week.

W. E. Doble with his span took the inmates of the Deaconess' Home to Norway last Sunday to attend church there.

George Clark and wife had green corn from their garden, Aug. 9; W. E. Lother and family from their garden, the 10th.

Mrs. Winsfield S. Ripley from Wakefield, Mass., has been visiting Mr. Ripley's sister, Mrs. Flora Pulsifer, the past week.

The Kemp Family stopped over night at Freeman Farrar's, last Friday. They entertained a gathering there in the evening.

Maud Bates has returned from West Paris and is stopping with Mrs. Ruth Crockett a few days, while awaiting the arrival of her brother's family.

Tim Tuell and daughter, Harriet E. from Milton, Mass., and Abbie Tuell from Fall River are the guests of their brother, E. S. Tuell and family.

Herbert L. Ryerson and wife went to Oxford last week to see their little grand baby, of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Richmond, who was very sick. They report a slight improvement.

Rev. Roscoe Remick, wife and two daughters from New Sharon, have visited Mrs. Remick's mother, Mrs. Joan Berry, and sisters, Mrs. George West and Mrs. Humbert Thomas, and families also her cousin, Mrs. Rosetta Ryerson.

UPTON.

Canoe Capsized, Man Drowned.
During the equal Thursday afternoon, a canoe in which was Harry Marsden and Mr. Snow was capsized and Mr. Snow, whose home was in Waterford, was drowned.

The men were employed by Mr. Berling of the place cutting birch and were coming down the lake. A camping party on Blake's island picked up Mr. Marsden, who was able to swim. At this writing the authorities of Upton had not recovered the body.

Mrs. Wilson of Philadelphia is boarding at H. I. Abbott's.

H. T. Chase is in very poor health, confined to his room.

A. W. Judkins killed a spring lamb which dressed 68½ pounds.

It is reported that Tom Warren has sold his farm to I. O. Douglass.

Tom Warren and crew out the hay on Ryerson farm for Charles Chase.

A severe electrical storm, Saturday evening. Several telephone wires burned out.

Alvah Coolidge has gone to Aroostook guiding and Mrs. Coolidge is visiting her son Scott at Berlin, N. H.

Mr. Wilson exchanged pulpits with the minister from Errol, who was assisted by Rev. Dr. Lyman of Philadelphia.

The poorest haying season for many years, not more than two good days in a week, the others cloudy, and considerable rain.

LOVELL.

Lake Kezar.
A. R. Davis and wife were at C. E. Harmon's, Saturday.

Fred Harmon is in Jackson, N. H., at work for W. O. Brown of Lovell.

Grace Ring has been stopping at Glenoaks Cottage the past two weeks.

Mrs. Frank Harmon caught a bass in Lake Kezar that weighed 4½ pounds.

Isaac Davis and wife and Mrs. Mary Davis were at Glenoaks Cottage, Friday.

Elwin T. Hubbard, wife and son of Portland are at C. P. Hubbard's cottage for two weeks.

Bennett McDaniels is building a cottage at Lake Kezar. It is made of logs, six rooms and has a fine stone fireplace built by Lloyd Poore. When it is completed it will be a fine place. It can be reached by team and by boat.

George Eastman and wife have returned to South Paris. Mrs. Dolliver and Mrs. Pease, who have been stopping at the Hubbard cottage, left on Friday. They will visit friends for a week or more and then return to their home in Baltimore.

The people on the lake were saddened by the death of little Jack Dolliver at the cottage of C. P. Hubbard, where he was stopping with his mother and other relatives for a vacation. His home was in Baltimore but for the past year he had been stopping with his uncle, George Eastman at South Paris. He had a heart trouble. The funeral was held Saturday, Aug. 13th, at the Congregational church at Lovell village, burial at No. 4.

No. 4.

The boarders are all gone from The Maples.

Will Keniston does not improve much. He is quite sick.

Mrs. Parmelia Howe is visiting friends and relatives in Bridgton and Harrison.

Mrs. Cora Wyman of West Medford, Mass., is visiting her brother, Charles Barker.

Mr. Bartlett of Massachusetts, uncle of Mrs. J. Thompson, is boarding at Lloyd Poore's.

John M. Farrington is visiting his brother Abel and other relatives in Mexico and Benji.

Mrs. Benji Russell, sr., who has been in poor health for some time, died Monday morning at 6 o'clock.

Mrs. Dr. Andrews and two sons of North Anson are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. Sumner Kimball and daughter Ruth with a party of friends have been stopping at their cottage on the shore of Kezar lake.

Arthur Knight came to accompany his daughters, Grace and Helen, and their friend to their home in Dorchester, Mass. They went Aug. 9th.

Fred Eastman of Kearsarge, N. H., is visiting his sister, Mrs. J. W. Howe. Mr. Eastman is in quite poor health, caused by a recent attack of typhoid fever.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Abbott are entertaining their Boston friends at The Sunshine. This summer they are having company the most of the time. A party of automobilists were there last week.

Will Grover, who is boarding at J. W. Howe's this summer and hauling corn boxes from Waterford to Fryeburg and Lovell, was away last week and bought a farm in North Paris. Evidently Will is going to farming. We wish him success.

F. A. Keniston went to Bethel last Sunday to carry Charles and George Stanley, where they were to take the train. George was going to work at Hastings and Charles to canvass the Wild River region. Mr. Stanley is a very successful canvasser.

Why Is There a So Called "Servant Problem?"

The title tells the tale.

New England girls do not like to be called servants. I do not, although I serve the public, but what has that to do with respectable people getting some one to help out with the housework, which is as necessary as making shoes or selling dry goods.

Housework must be done. We must eat, care for the weaker, clothe the small members, wash the same and dress them. Now how is anybody to do this and manage a business at the same time?

I can save money.

I can do housework but I cannot do both at once.

What is to be done?

Is it a question of pay?

I will pay fifteen dollars a month year round, two weeks vacation with no loss of time, give a good room, make the situation for one as a member of the family, good treatment mutually expected. There is wood in the shed and kindling always ready.

I always build the fire in the morning.

Is there any one who wants a steady job, regular pay? If there is, correspond at once with Wm. C. LEAVITT, Norway, Me.

Did you see the eclipse?

NORTHWEST NORWAY.

Mrs. Cross of Dorchester, Mass., Mrs. Mason of Medford, Mass., and Mrs. Harriman of Oxford were at W. S. Merrill's, Tuesday and Wednesday. Mrs. Mydia Swain also visited there Wednesday and Thursday.

There was a pleasant little gathering at R. B. Kimball's Sunday, the 13th, consisting of Mrs. D. W. Farnum, from Waltham, Mass., Mrs. Thomas Lovejoy of Portland, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Merrill of East Waterford and Mr. and Mrs. B. Doughty of West Paris. The day was clear and beautiful, and a bountiful dinner was served by Mrs. Kimball.

The only shadow of the day was the non-appearance of Mrs. Lovejoy's son Frank and family who were coming by automobile from Rumford Falls. When the company disbanded it was with many a wish that they might meet often.

BOLSTER'S MILLS.

Beth Scribner is at Paris Hill visiting a couple weeks.

Mrs. Charles Hancock of Melrose is visiting her relatives and friends here.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES:—One year $1.50; eight months, $1.00; six months, 75 cents; four months, 50 cents; three months, 25 cents, when paid in advance.

CHANGES OF ADDRESS.—Parties wishing the postoffice address of their paper changed must send us both the old and new addresses.

ADVERTISEMENTS.—Business and legal advertisements inserted at reasonable rates and according to space and position occupied. Cards of thanks, resolutions of respect, obituary notices, etc., at special rates.

Business specials and readers, 10 cents per line count. Address: F. W. SANBORN, Norway, Me.

Single Copies of the Advertiser Can be obtained week on sale at the following places:—

At 4 cents each: F. W. Sanborn, Norway, Me.; F. P. Stone, Norway, Me.; J. H. Brooks, Norway, Me.; G. R. Wiley, Norway, Me.; F. W. White, Norway, Me.; Chas. L. Jackson, Norway, Me.; George H. Jones, Norway, Me.

Orders for single copies sent direct to the office of publication will be promptly filled. Advertiser, Norway, Me.

NORWAY AND VICINITY.

Cummings' Storehouse Burned.

The sounding of an alarm of fire from box 28, at 12:55 Saturday morning, summoned the fire department to one of the most obstinate fires that they have had to fight for years. The blaze was in the storehouse of C. B. Cummings, 46 Main street, east of the passenger station. When discovered the storehouse was completely afire underneath, and the flames spread to the entire building, making an intense heat. The water was turned on from three lines of hose and the flames spread from spreading to adjoining storehouses, the absence of wind and the gravel roof of the building aiding in the control of the fire. The signal "under control" was sounded at 3 a. m., but owing to the nature of the stock, manufactured goods with which the building was completely filled, the fire companies remained until ten o'clock in the forenoon. The stock was piled over and some water put on through the afternoon.

Except a small portion of the western end, the storehouse was completely destroyed. The stock of towels ready for shipment was badly damaged. The value was about $10,000, and there was an insurance of $8,500.

E. J. Whitman of Somerville, Mass., was in this vicinity the past week.

Henry W. Cobb and wife of Portland have been spending a few days at Norway.

Geo. E. Horr reports green corn and ripe tomatoes from his own garden, Aug. 7.

Mrs. Julian Brown has been spending a week or two at her cottage at the Empire Campgrounds.

B. W. Marston of the Yaggar neighborhood has sold his farm to Daniel Mills of Mason. Mr. Marston intends to move into the village.

The Kennebec Journal says:—They raise great quantities of Norway. Seven of the 15 men on the team to represent Maine at the Seagirt national shoot are from that town.

W. C. Cole is building an 18-foot addition to the Moffatt cottage beside the lake. New glass doors and new windows are being put in and the building is to be repainted.

Mrs. Olive Kimball will sell her household goods, horse, wagon, etc., at auction at the Horn Farm, Norway, Saturday, Aug. 19, at 1 o'clock, p. m., A. D. Park, auctioneer.

Car No. 5 of the Norway and Paris Street Railway left the rails on Upper Main street on the 2.15 trip from South Paris, Thursday afternoon, and when stopped was across the track and headed for C. B. Cummings' and Sons office. The crew went to work and the car was put back on the rails at 4 o'clock.

A young woman strunk Norway, Friday, on a begging expedition. According to her statement she was a cripple. The trouble seemed to be that one leg was shorter than the other as her shoe was built up with a sole of about two inches, and she walked with a stiff one crutch. She walked rapidly and seemed to have little or no trouble in moving about. The object she was getting money for was to learn typewriting. When asked how much it would cost she said she did not know, but about $100 she thought. She did not know where she was to learn it for she had just started out to get the money. We saw her begging of one of our citizens, who is badly crippled and a good many times later than she apparently was. She dined at the Beal's Hotel.

Devoe Outwore Two Others.

Here's a 15-year yarn; you like yarns, don't you? It comes from Odell, Hardway Co., Greensboro, N. C.

Mr. R. G. Glenn's house in that town was painted Devoe about 15 years ago, and next, this year.

A house, next door, was painted about the same time with another paint, supposed to be good. This house was painted again about 5 years ago with still another paint, that professed to be extraordinary.

Glenn's house, before it was painted just now, was in as good condition as that one. Devoe 15 years; the other 5 years—guess that's about how to put it. But this extraordinary paint is a bluff; Devoe is the paint.

F. P. STONE, NORWAY

Assets Small.

Amos W. Knight, proprietor of the White Oak Spring hotel in Poland, one of the finest summer hotels in New England, has gone into bankruptcy. His voluntary petition, filed in the District Court, Saturday, places his liabilities at $195,038. He has no assets—nothing except $15 worth of personal belongings. His creditors are distributed over Maine and Massachusetts principally.

A few of them had some part in the building or furnishing of the big house.

There are two secured claims. One is that of George Bayes of Kennebunk and the other the Saco Savings bank, which holds a $100,000 mortgage on the hotel and has an account of $121,021 against the proprietor.

The Richmond Bros. of Oxford, dealers in grain, hay, lumber, etc., have changed the firm name to "The Robinson Grain Co."

Advertised Letters, Norway.

Mrs. Ethel Bushby, Lucius Stone, J. H. Sullivan, W. S. Sargent, Jack Rose, Noble Henderson, R. C. Edges.

Maine Might Be One Vast Park.

The State of New Hampshire has started a movement to save shade trees along the highways and this is the simple and easy manner in which they do it. They first make a law, then they go along roads and put a round red label about three inches in diameter on which are the letters "N. H." These are "State trees" and if they are there is a fine. In this way in a few years, the roads throughout the State will be between rows of large, beautiful shade trees.

This would be a good example for Maine to follow, and the sooner it is put into operation, the sooner the entire State will have its roads more beautiful than its best well wisher ever imagined it could be.

It has been decided in New Hampshire that an evergreen tree like pine, spruce, hemlock, fir, etc., is not a shade tree, and this is a good idea, for the foliage of the trees in the winter might be a bad thing with our deep snows in this climate.

The trees they select shed their foliage in the fall, and after being trimmed up do not obstruct the view in the winter, nor interfere in any way with the snow. We all know how pleasant it is to ride along a shady road in the summer. It is a blessing to both man and beast.

Everyone is interested in this subject and let the people in Oxford county start in and work for shade trees at regular intervals throughout our good old State of Maine. "The summer playground of the United States."

We would be pleased to print the opinions of our readers on this subject of systematically preserving and planting shade trees along our highways.

The Month of Reunions.

August is preeminently the month of reunions. In our changing civilization it is supplanting Thanksgiving as a time for gathering at the old home. The factory hand, the clerk, and all the other city workers have their vacations in the summer, and it is during their vacations that they visit the old farm, the ancient schoolhouse, the orchard, the brook and the swimming hole.

It is different from the days when city people were few, and work on the farm kept people at home in the summer. Winter was the holiday season, and the reunions clustered about Thanksgiving and in the last week of November or first week of December.

Old home week is appropriately placed in August, then, and has been established as beginning with the second Sunday. It has little in the way of special ceremonies, this year. Somehow, the visitors need rest, and the ceremonies pass out of existence. The spirit of old home week is unchanged. The observance is becoming home joy instead of public celebration.

Oxford county seems to be the particular headquarters of the family reunions in Maine, and many "cousin parties," etc., are held in its towns. But the family reunions are becoming more numerous all over the State.

The Civil War regiments and the schools hold their gatherings at this time of year and the Chautauque assemblies and campmeetings draw their thousands of guests to the State.

Blessed is August if it may be hot, but it is "Old Home month."

Made a Mistake.

Fifty-one gallons of liquor were seized at Dixfield the past week.

Fifty-one prominent citizens of Dixfield received letters from a distilling company of Cincinnati, O., informing them that one gallon of pure whiskey had been sent C. O. D. to their address and that they could have the same by calling at the express office and laying down $3.50 for it.

The letters also stated that in the cases containing the gallon of whiskey were a pipe and tobacco and some whiskey glasses as a present from the firm and an assurance of their good will. The whole kit of fifty-one gallons of the distilling company's best is now deposited safely in the hands of the authorities, thanks to the efforts of Deputy Sheriff George W. Dockham and the recipients of the letters.

If the distilling company had wanted to send fifty-one gallons of liquor to Dixfield, and had wanted to get their pay for it, they should have picked out a different class of men to whom to have sent it, for the gentlemen whom they did favor were almost to a letter total abstainers, and didn't want the rum and wouldn't have it anyway.

The letters stating that by presenting $3.50 at the express office, they could get their gallon of liquor, were immediately put into the hands of the sheriff and a good officer, who presented a search and seizure warrant instead of the $3.50 at the depot and found the goods. Immediately, Sheriff McIntire was notified and he at once notified County Attorney Barnes.

Emily Fuller Perry.

Emily Fuller Perry, more familiarly known as Aunt Emily, who recently passed to her eternal home, was one of Denmark's oldest and best known residents. About sixty years of her life was passed there—marked by ceaseless work and untiring energy.

She was born in Hampton, Conn., Jan. 15, 1814, and was a direct descendant of John Fuller, who came to America from England in 1634.

She married Isaac Berry of Denmark, and soon after her marriage left her old home for the home of her husband where she spent the remainder of her long and busy life, only once returning for a short visit to Connecticut.

Eight children came to the Berry homestead, four of whom together with the father, died many years ago. The remaining four, Mrs. James Head, Jared Wallace and Isaac Berry live in Denmark and her home has been with Isaac since the death of her husband.

A woman of sterling qualities, and a friend to all, she will be sadly missed by both young and old.

Postal changes—Answer to Rumford Falls. Leave Answer Fall except Sunday 5.15 a. m., and 10.45 a. m. Arrive at Rumford Falls by 8.30 a. m., and 2 p. m. Leave Rumford Falls daily except Sunday 10.25 a. m., and 4.50 p. m. Arrive at Answer, by 1.40 p. m., and 8.05 p. m.

The earnings of the Grand Trunk Ry. system for the fourth week of July, 1905, were $982,178; for the corresponding week of 1904 they were $948,810; increase for 1905, $33,368.

The Grand Trunk has closed its quarry at Bryant's Pond, and the stone cutters have returned to Canada. This is thought to indicate that no new stations will be built on this division this year.

Live in the Air.

"Live in the open air as much as you can," said a medical man who tries to make his patients beautiful as well as healthy. "Live in it all the time, if possible; or if you can not do that, live in it as much as such as you can. You can't get too much of the outdoor air."

"What will the outdoor air do for you? Everything in the world. It will clear the complexion, give you an appetite, strengthen your lungs, make your liver more active and wake you up generally. It may make you feel a little lazy because you are not accustomed to it, but it will do you good."

"What do I do for my sick patients? I give them outdoor air. There is nothing in the world that will cure them as thoroughly and as quickly. A good drive for the really sick and a good walk for the half sick is the best specific I know. Air will cure where nothing else will."

The old-fashioned way of taking air was wrong. The patient took a long walk, then went to bed in a stuffy bedroom for a nap. The result was that she woke up tired with a poor skin and a lack of appetite. The fresh air cure now is more sweeping. You take a long walk in the open air, you come home tired and want to rest. You lie down in a hammock and take a nap in the open, or you stretch yourself on the grass under a big tree or you doze off in a shady corner of the piazza. You position in and work for shade trees at regular intervals throughout our good old State of Maine. "The summer playground of the United States."

We would be pleased to print the opinions of our readers on this subject of systematically preserving and planting shade trees along our highways.

The Month of Reunions.

August is preeminently the month of reunions. In our changing civilization it is supplanting Thanksgiving as a time for gathering at the old home. The factory hand, the clerk, and all the other city workers have their vacations in the summer, and it is during their vacations that they visit the old farm, the ancient schoolhouse, the orchard, the brook and the swimming hole.

It is different from the days when city people were few, and work on the farm kept people at home in the summer. Winter was the holiday season, and the reunions clustered about Thanksgiving and in the last week of November or first week of December.

Old home week is appropriately placed in August, then, and has been established as beginning with the second Sunday. It has little in the way of special ceremonies, this year. Somehow, the visitors need rest, and the ceremonies pass out of existence. The spirit of old home week is unchanged. The observance is becoming home joy instead of public celebration.

Oxford county seems to be the particular headquarters of the family reunions in Maine, and many "cousin parties," etc., are held in its towns. But the family reunions are becoming more numerous all over the State.

The Civil War regiments and the schools hold their gatherings at this time of year and the Chautauque assemblies and campmeetings draw their thousands of guests to the State.

Blessed is August if it may be hot, but it is "Old Home month."

Made a Mistake.

Fifty-one gallons of liquor were seized at Dixfield the past week.

Fifty-one prominent citizens of Dixfield received letters from a distilling company of Cincinnati, O., informing them that one gallon of pure whiskey had been sent C. O. D. to their address and that they could have the same by calling at the express office and laying down $3.50 for it.

The letters also stated that in the cases containing the gallon of whiskey were a pipe and tobacco and some whiskey glasses as a present from the firm and an assurance of their good will. The whole kit of fifty-one gallons of the distilling company's best is now deposited safely in the hands of the authorities, thanks to the efforts of Deputy Sheriff George W. Dockham and the recipients of the letters.

If the distilling company had wanted to send fifty-one gallons of liquor to Dixfield, and had wanted to get their pay for it, they should have picked out a different class of men to whom to have sent it, for the gentlemen whom they did favor were almost to a letter total abstainers, and didn't want the rum and wouldn't have it anyway.

The letters stating that by presenting $3.50 at the express office, they could get their gallon of liquor, were immediately put into the hands of the sheriff and a good officer, who presented a search and seizure warrant instead of the $3.50 at the depot and found the goods. Immediately, Sheriff McIntire was notified and he at once notified County Attorney Barnes.

Emily Fuller Perry.

Emily Fuller Perry, more familiarly known as Aunt Emily, who recently passed to her eternal home, was one of Denmark's oldest and best known residents. About sixty years of her life was passed there—marked by ceaseless work and untiring energy.

She was born in Hampton, Conn., Jan. 15, 1814, and was a direct descendant of John Fuller, who came to America from England in 1634.

She married Isaac Berry of Denmark, and soon after her marriage left her old home for the home of her husband where she spent the remainder of her long and busy life, only once returning for a short visit to Connecticut.

Eight children came to the Berry homestead, four of whom together with the father, died many years ago. The remaining four, Mrs. James Head, Jared Wallace and Isaac Berry live in Denmark and her home has been with Isaac since the death of her husband.

A woman of sterling qualities, and a friend to all, she will be sadly missed by both young and old.

Postal changes—Answer to Rumford Falls. Leave Answer Fall except Sunday 5.15 a. m., and 10.45 a. m. Arrive at Rumford Falls by 8.30 a. m., and 2 p. m. Leave Rumford Falls daily except Sunday 10.25 a. m., and 4.50 p. m. Arrive at Answer, by 1.40 p. m., and 8.05 p. m.

The earnings of the Grand Trunk Ry. system for the fourth week of July, 1905, were $982,178; for the corresponding week of 1904 they were $948,810; increase for 1905, $33,368.

The Grand Trunk has closed its quarry at Bryant's Pond, and the stone cutters have returned to Canada. This is thought to indicate that no new stations will be built on this division this year.

THE TURN OF LIFE

A Time When Women Are Susceptible to Many Dread Diseases—Intelligent Women Prepare for It. Two Relate their Experience.

The "change of life" is the most critical period of a woman's existence, and the anxiety felt by women as it draws near is not without reason. Every woman who neglects the care of her health at this time invites disease and pain. When her system is in a deranged condition, or she is predisposed to apoplexy, or congestion of any organ, the tendency is at this period likely to become active—and with a host of nervous irritations, make life a burden. At this time, also, cancers and tumors are more likely to form and begin their destructive work.

Such warning symptoms as sense of suffocation, hot flashes, headache, backaches, dizziness, palpitation of the heart, sparks before the eyes, irregularities of menstruation, variable appetite, weakness and inquietude, and dizziness, are promptly heeded by intelligent women who are approaching the period of life when woman's great change may be expected.

These symptoms are all just so many calls from nature for help. The nerves are crying out for assistance and the cry should be heeded in time. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was prepared to meet the needs of woman's system at this trying period of her life. It invigorates and strengthens the female organism and builds up a weakened nervous system. It has carried thousands of women safely through this crisis.

For special advice regarding this important period women are invited to write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., and it will be furnished absolutely free of charge.

Read what Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound did for Mrs. Hyland and Mrs. Hinkle:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:— I had been suffering with falling of the womb for years and was passing through the change of life. My womb was badly swollen, and my stomach was very painful, sick headaches, and was very nervous.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Succeeds Where Others Fail.

Take the fresh air cure as often as you can. It should be a sort of progressive cure. That is the best way to take it; look for your chances and take the cure.

Souvenir Postals.

Several in Norway are making collections of souvenir postals, and more are buying them and sending them to friends. The neat albums for the postals make the collection very attractive.

The dealers report the sales increasing and new cards are constantly appearing. The business has grown to such proportions that the cards have assumed such variety of form, size and material, that they are causing a great deal of bother to the postoffices.

A law was enacted by Congress a few years ago which provided that cards of the same size and weight as the ordinary postal cards might be sent through the mails as ordinary postal cards providing a one cent stamp is affixed.

Many of the printed cards sold as souvenir postal cards in the past, require one cent to be written upon and sent through the mails with a one cent stamp affixed. The trouble is, however, that not all or indeed most of the souvenir cards do meet the government requirements. Many of them are much bigger than ordinary cards and they are made of leather and wood and almost everything else.

All of these cards are mailable as merchandise at the rate of one cent an ounce but if they are written upon them then they require letter postage which is two cents an ounce.

The leather cards, which are so popular this season, are of about the same size as the ordinary cards and would be available if written upon, if it were not for the fact that they are much thicker than the ordinary postal cards. This bars them from the mails except as merchandise and if written upon letter postage must be paid.

The wooden souvenirs are generally much larger and heavier than ordinary postal cards and generally weigh more than an ounce. Upon these if there is any writing four cents in stamps must be affixed.

These few facts cover the government regulations and if everybody was familiar with them and obeyed them, they would save themselves and the post-office people much trouble, and more of us would be able to reach their destination. Sent to many people all souvenirs "look alike" and they affix one-cent stamps to big and little, write their messages on the back and dump them into the letter boxes. Naturally the great majority of them do not reach their destinations, and then there is sorrow and disappointment.

Mothers lose their dread for "that terrible second summer" when they have Dr. Fowler's Extra of Wild Strawberry in the house. Nature's specific for summer complaints of every sort. $1.40.

Lucian W. Blanchard of Rumford successfully passed the examination for admission to the Maine bar at Portland.

A. Joseph Staples, a native of Casco, has been appointed general foreman of B. & M. car shops at Salem, Mass.

Grandma Mott's Advice to Travelers.

"You should not travel without a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," says Mrs. Kate Mott, of Fairfield, Iowa, or "Grandma Mott" as she is familiarly known. "One or two doses of this remedy will always cure the worst case of summer complaint. We keep it always at hand, in fact, we could not keep house without it." For sale by Noyes Drug Store, Norway, Shurtleff's, South and West Paris.

Try not to think of your future or of your past; don't worry about the money made or lost; let the sun do its work. Imagine you are out at open sea. You can't get home if you want to. While you are tenting or otherwise taking the fresh air cure, why not take a course in philosophy. Fresh air and philosophy go hand in hand.

Study the art of keeping your hands still; study how to sit still and how to stand still; and don't forget that the fresh air, after all, is only half the cure. The other half, yourself. You must be willing to be cured.

Live in the open air as much as you can," said a medical man who tries to make his patients beautiful as well as healthy. "Live in it all the time, if possible; or if you can not do that, live in it as much as such as you can. You can't get too much of the outdoor air."

"What will the outdoor air do for you? Everything in the world. It will clear the complexion, give you an appetite, strengthen your lungs, make your liver more active and wake you up generally. It may make you feel a little lazy because you are not accustomed to it, but it will do you good."

"What do I do for my sick patients? I give them outdoor air. There is nothing in the world that will cure them as thoroughly and as quickly. A good drive for the really sick and a good walk for the half sick is the best specific I know. Air will cure where nothing else will."

The old-fashioned way of taking air was wrong. The patient took a long walk, then went to bed in a stuffy bedroom for a nap. The result was that she woke up tired with a poor skin and a lack of appetite. The fresh air cure now is more sweeping. You take a long walk in the open air, you come home tired and want to rest. You lie down in a hammock and take a nap in the open, or you stretch yourself on the grass under a big tree or you doze off in a shady corner of the piazza. You position in and work for shade trees at regular intervals throughout our good old State of Maine. "The summer playground of the United States."

We would be pleased to print the opinions of our readers on this subject of systematically preserving and planting shade trees along our highways.

The Month of Reunions.

August is preeminently the month of reunions. In our changing civilization it is supplanting Thanksgiving as a time for gathering at the old home. The factory hand, the clerk, and all the other city workers have their vacations in the summer, and it is during their vacations that they visit the old farm, the ancient schoolhouse, the orchard, the brook and the swimming hole.

It is different from the days when city people were few, and work on the farm kept people at home in the summer. Winter was the holiday season, and the reunions clustered about Thanksgiving and in the last week of November or first week of December.

Old home week is appropriately placed in August, then, and has been established as beginning with the second Sunday. It has little in the way of special ceremonies, this year. Somehow, the visitors need rest, and the ceremonies pass out of existence. The spirit of old home week is unchanged. The observance is becoming home joy instead of public celebration.

Oxford county seems to be the particular headquarters of the family reunions in Maine, and many "cousin parties," etc., are held in its towns. But the family reunions are becoming more numerous all over the State.

The Civil War regiments and the schools hold their gatherings at this time of year and the Chautauque assemblies and campmeetings draw their thousands of guests to the State.

Blessed is August if it may be hot, but it is "Old Home month."

Made a Mistake.

Fifty-one gallons of liquor were seized at Dixfield the past week.

Fifty-one prominent citizens of Dixfield received letters from a distilling company of Cincinnati, O., informing them that one gallon of pure whiskey had been sent C. O. D. to their address and that they could have the same by calling at the express office and laying down $3.50 for it.

The letters also stated that in the cases containing the gallon of whiskey were a pipe and tobacco and some whiskey glasses as a present from the firm and an assurance of their good will. The whole kit of fifty-one gallons of the distilling company's best is now deposited safely in the hands of the authorities, thanks to the efforts of Deputy Sheriff George W. Dockham and the recipients of the letters.

If the distilling company had wanted to send fifty-one gallons of liquor to Dixfield, and had wanted to get their pay for it, they should have picked out a different class of men to whom to have sent it, for the gentlemen whom they did favor were almost to a letter total abstainers, and didn't want the rum and wouldn't have it anyway.

The letters stating that by presenting $3.50 at the express office, they could get their gallon of liquor, were immediately put into the hands of the sheriff and a good officer, who presented a search and seizure warrant instead of the $3.50 at the depot and found the goods. Immediately, Sheriff McIntire was notified and he at once notified County Attorney Barnes.

Emily Fuller Perry.

Emily Fuller Perry, more familiarly known as Aunt Emily, who recently passed to her eternal home, was one of Denmark's oldest and best known residents. About sixty years of her life was passed there—marked by ceaseless work and untiring energy.

BLISS Business College.

Will Begin Its 9th Year Sept. 18, 1905

The Bliss Method

The distinguishing feature of our school is the Bliss Method of private individual instruction, giving the student the benefit of close personal contact with a larger and more efficient corps of special teachers than any small school can afford to hire.

The Business Course

Is the strongest offered by any school in New England, and is a broad preparation for a successful business career.

The Shorthand Course

Offers technical training in all that pertains to the duties of stenographer, reporter, or private secretary.

The Combined Course

The combined course is a combination of the above and gives the pupil a practical knowledge of financial records as well as a degree of correspondence.

The Teacher's Course

Graduates co-educational teachers for other private schools, business colleges, and high schools. For rates, description of courses and other information, call or write to:

BLISS BUSINESS COLLEGE
Lewiston, Maine
"No Better School at $17.00" 2338

INSIDE HELP AND HUSKERS

Wanted
At Corn Shop

During packing season. Good wages. Prospect of a long and steady run. Apply to

D. J. M. FRENCH, Norway, Me. 2341

Cole's Jewelry Store

Is The Place
To get Silverware that will wear.

Clocks and Watches that will run and keep time. Sewing Machine supplies.

F. A. COLE,
Norway, Me.

INSURANCE

Saves loss in case of disaster
C. E. TOLMAN & CO., South Paris, Me.

Clear Out The Flies!

It's Fly time! What a nuisance they are. Bothering you when you work, crawling over you when you rest. On everything, into everything. Disease germs are carried by Flies, nearly every epidemic is spread by Flies.

Catch And Kill Them

By Tanglefoot and Sticky Fly Paper, or by Poison Paper.

We have the best materials to kill them off.

F. P. STONE, Druggist,
143 Main St. Norway, Maine.

MEN'S GOODYEAR WELT SHOES

DR. KENNEDY'S FAVORITE REMEDY

Breaks no Hearts, Excuses
no Crimes.

Dr. David Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY is not a disguised enemy of the human race; where it cannot help, it does not harm. It is composed of vegetable ingredients and does not heat or inflame the blood, but purifies it. In all cases of indigestion, liver complaints, constipation, and the delicate ailments which afflict women, the action of Dr. Kennedy's FAVORITE REMEDY is beyond praise. Thousands of people voluntarily testify to this. In fact, Dr. Kennedy, with a wealth of fullness of words which were his, has never possessed. It is a combination of the best of all medicines. In its coming there is no trial and its wings there is healing. We challenge a trial and are confident of the result. Your druggist has it. ONE DOLLAR A BOTTLE. Beware of cheap imitations. Address: Dr. David Kennedy, New York, New York.

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY SYSTEM

Personally Conducted
VACATION TOURS

PACIFIC COAST

All Expenses Paid

Second Year leaves Portland, Boston and Seattle August 28. Rates from Portland and Seattle East in Maine $102.50.
Special train. First-class Service. Party limited to 25 people. Tickets good to return within 60 days.
For full information address 31-33
E. C. BOWLER,

General Agent and Conductor, BETHEL, ME.
Or to any of our Grand Trunk Ticket Agents.

EASTERN STEAMSHIP CO.

PORTLAND DIVISION.
PORTLAND AND BOSTON LINE.

FARE $1.25
Special Steamer of this line leaves Portland, Boston, and Seattle, Monday, August 28, at 7 p. m.
Additional Sunday Trips.
Commencing June 1st, from Portland at 8 p. m. to Boston at 7 p. m.
All cargo, except live stock, via the steamers of this company, is insured against fire and marine risk.
J. F. LISCOR, Agent, Franklin Wharf, Portland, Me.
CALVIN AUSTIN, Vice Pres't and Gen'l Manager, Foster's Wharf, Boston, Mass.

Mrs. R. L. Powers,

MILLINERY

Opera House Block, Norway, Me.

LEARN

To make your poultry pay. Subscribe for Poultry Journal. Reliable Poultry Journal. $2.00 per year. Send for sample copy and price of Poultry Journal.
LEE'S LICE KILLER and GERMOZONE.
CHAS. D. MORSE, Agent, Watford, Me.

ICE! ICE! ICE!

We are prepared to furnish you with Pure Lake Ice at reasonable prices.
Ice will be delivered in such quantities as is wanted. Call on or address

C. E. Russell,

Telephone 9-11, NORWAY, ME.

GANG STRIPPER

T. H. RICKER & SONS.

Manufacturers of Circular Saw Mills and Saw Mill Machinery. The Celebrated Ricker Roller Log Hauls, Planing Machines, Matching Machines, Sizing Cut Saw, Double Edgers and Gang Cut Out Machines for making boxes and Stoppers for stripping all kinds of small round stock, Shingles, etc.

HARRISON, MAINE.

NOW IS THE TIME TO GET YOUR

Marble and Granite Work.

J. F. BOLSTER, Norway, Me.

Has a large supply of Italian and American Marble and all kinds of Granite for Tablets, Headstones, Monuments, etc. Prices reasonable. Call on him or send him a postal card. Shop on Lynn St.

The Old Folks' Party.

"Have you thought," said Obadiah Edom as his wife, Arimathy, the twin sat one evening beside the glowing grate in the pleasant and cozy sitting room at Primrose Farm, the country home of the Edoms, "Do you know, it is almost time again we that had the old folks' merry-making only a year ago should be thinking about it again?"

"I declare, husband, so it is," exclaimed Arimathy, "and this year it won't do to let it go by unobserved, for the old folks' merry-making has become such a feature in the years that have flown that we are by no means the only ones who look forward to it with keen relish and delight."

Many have dropped away who have met with us and enjoyed our hospitality in other days; gone home, dear wife, into the great unknown to enjoy the higher life in the city not built with hands, whose maker and finisher, like the author and finisher of our faith, is God.

"Others are living, and, with us still, and these no doubt will, many of them, again be glad to partake of our home cheer and the largess of our hearts as of old."

"Ole uncle Bial Drake and 'ant Wyman and Prudence Somersworth, the Spinster and Daisie, 'trot at his wife's side, have all stepped over the line during the year that has just gone, just a little way in advance of us, so they will not meet with us this year. In the Father's house in glory, they have no doubt long ere this, partaken together of the Father's rich bounty for all them that love him. While they dwell with us upon earth we enjoyed their companionship, and well we may say and truly feel today, that our own lowly lives have been benefited, made better because of them."

"Do you think, do you believe, Obadiah," asked the wife, "they are all at home to-night?" "The Book says 'They sleep till the resurrection morn.'"

"Ay," softly replied Obadiah, "but these words of the Master, like sunbeams over life's shadows, break in at once into our night into day, our doubt into certainty, for 'Lo, have I not told you I am the resurrection and the life?'"

Then again to-day, not many far off time away down the dim vista of inrolling years, this day thou shalt be with me in Paradise."

"Well, though we may not understand but little, I believe," said Arimathy, "He does all things well, and therewith should we be content."

Thus amid quiet and bloom and happiness the days soon sped away and brought the day of the old folks' party at Primrose Farm, the home of the Edom family. Of the immediate members of the Edom household, first there was, or stood, old, old Obadiah, as the most senior member of the family was termed by the simple, kind-hearted yeomanry dwelling around and near them, then came Arimathy, his wife, both well along into the nineties; close after these, Obadiah senior and his wife Meridly, who already, some years ago, had crossed the half century mark, then came young Obadiah with his wife, Priscilla, for short, a spinster, called aunt Miss Hitty, sister to Obadiah senior, and two little boys, children of Obadiah junior and his young wife Priscilla, composed the Edom household.

It is said, I know not how justly, that no one house can hold two women and at the same time have the white winged Dove of Peace flying out and in for any length of time at its windows, but it wasn't so in this case, for long, long years the members of the Edom household had dwelt together in love and unity.

"Twas a fine, old, rambling mansion of colonial days, settling well back from the travelled thoroughfare beneath huge, over-arching elms, whose welcome shade formed delightful retreats to the members of the family and all comers and goers tarrying awhile at the old homestead.

Obadiah and his consort, Meridly, had already sent out their invitations, and expected, as many had accepted and sent them word to that effect, a goodly company would be present to enjoy their hospitality as in former days.

Everything about the old place was spotless, clean, both indoors and out. It would have made your mouth water but just to have cast a glance into Meridly's cheese room and breathed in that highly appetizing and delicate aroma emanating from new home-made cheese. There wasn't a better cheese maker for miles around, so folks said, than Rildy Edom. And her neat, clean and tidy dairy showed its mistress meant to keep up with her reputation.

So the day came, and soon the guests began to arrive. I wonder just how many think they know all about an old folks' party; few, I fancy, for many have had no chance to go. Others cared not to go when old and when young much preferred to go and put in an hour somewhere else than at an old folks' party.

Meddlesome I hear someone exclaim, "Oh, they're dull affairs, dull places where there isn't much to be seen or heard; all there is there is a group of two of pale looking, wistfully weary individuals that have long since gone out of date, like a last year's calendar, and no one now takes any interest in them, whatever." Young man, some of the most beautiful faces I ever saw in all my life were old faces. Some of the most glossy and fairest tresses I ever saw were silvered o'er, with weight of years upon them. Some of the youngest, brightest hearts and lives I've ever found and known I've seen and found in oldest frames.

But as fine and clean as Rildy's dairy room looked it was not to be compared to her pantry, just one sniff of which from the crack of that pantry door would make one feel hungry for a week.

"Twas in the pantry that whatever happy such cakes as Rildy could make, such as cakes of butter, the neighbors all date, like a last year's calendar, and no one now takes any interest in them, whatever."

Young man, some of the most beautiful faces I ever saw in all my life were old faces. Some of the most glossy and fairest tresses I ever saw were silvered o'er, with weight of years upon them. Some of the youngest, brightest hearts and lives I've ever found and known I've seen and found in oldest frames.

But as fine and clean as Rildy's dairy room looked it was not to be compared to her pantry, just one sniff of which from the crack of that pantry door would make one feel hungry for a week.

"Twas in the pantry that whatever happy such cakes as Rildy could make, such as cakes of butter, the neighbors all date, like a last year's calendar, and no one now takes any interest in them, whatever."

Young man, some of the most beautiful faces I ever saw in all my life were old faces. Some of the most glossy and fairest tresses I ever saw were silvered o'er, with weight of years upon them. Some of the youngest, brightest hearts and lives I've ever found and known I've seen and found in oldest frames.

But as fine and clean as Rildy's dairy room looked it was not to be compared to her pantry, just one sniff of which from the crack of that pantry door would make one feel hungry for a week.

"Twas in the pantry that whatever happy such cakes as Rildy could make, such as cakes of butter, the neighbors all date, like a last year's calendar, and no one now takes any interest in them, whatever."

Young man, some of the most beautiful faces I ever saw in all my life were old faces. Some of the most glossy and fairest tresses I ever saw were silvered o'er, with weight of years upon them. Some of the youngest, brightest hearts and lives I've ever found and known I've seen and found in oldest frames.

But as fine and clean as Rildy's dairy room looked it was not to be compared to her pantry, just one sniff of which from the crack of that pantry door would make one feel hungry for a week.

"Twas in the pantry that whatever happy such cakes as Rildy could make, such as cakes of butter, the neighbors all date, like a last year's calendar, and no one now takes any interest in them, whatever."

Young man, some of the most beautiful faces I ever saw in all my life were old faces. Some of the most glossy and fairest tresses I ever saw were silvered o'er, with weight of years upon them. Some of the youngest, brightest hearts and lives I've ever found and known I've seen and found in oldest frames.

But as fine and clean as Rildy's dairy room looked it was not to be compared to her pantry, just one sniff of which from the crack of that pantry door would make one feel hungry for a week.

"Twas in the pantry that whatever happy such cakes as Rildy could make, such as cakes of butter, the neighbors all date, like a last year's calendar, and no one now takes any interest in them, whatever."

Young man, some of the most beautiful faces I ever saw in all my life were old faces. Some of the most glossy and fairest tresses I ever saw were silvered o'er, with weight of years upon them. Some of the youngest, brightest hearts and lives I've ever found and known I've seen and found in oldest frames.

But as fine and clean as Rildy's dairy room looked it was not to be compared to her pantry, just one sniff of which from the crack of that pantry door would make one feel hungry for a week.

"Twas in the pantry that whatever happy such cakes as Rildy could make, such as cakes of butter, the neighbors all date, like a last year's calendar, and no one now takes any interest in them, whatever."

Young man, some of the most beautiful faces I ever saw in all my life were old faces. Some of the most glossy and fairest tresses I ever saw were silvered o'er, with weight of years upon them. Some of the youngest, brightest hearts and lives I've ever found and known I've seen and found in oldest frames.

But as fine and clean as Rildy's dairy room looked it was not to be compared to her pantry, just one sniff of which from the crack of that pantry door would make one feel hungry for a week.

"Twas in the pantry that whatever happy such cakes as Rildy could make, such as cakes of butter, the neighbors all date, like a last year's calendar, and no one now takes any interest in them, whatever."

Young man, some of the most beautiful faces I ever saw in all my life were old faces. Some of the most glossy and fairest tresses I ever saw were silvered o'er, with weight of years upon them. Some of the youngest, brightest hearts and lives I've ever found and known I've seen and found in oldest frames.

But as fine and clean as Rildy's dairy room looked it was not to be compared to her pantry, just one sniff of which from the crack of that pantry door would make one feel hungry for a week.

"Twas in the pantry that whatever happy such cakes as Rildy could make, such as cakes of butter, the neighbors all date, like a last year's calendar, and no one now takes any interest in them, whatever."

Young man, some of the most beautiful faces I ever saw in all my life were old faces. Some of the most glossy and fairest tresses I ever saw were silvered o'er, with weight of years upon them. Some of the youngest, brightest hearts and lives I've ever found and known I've seen and found in oldest frames.

But as fine and clean as Rildy's dairy room looked it was not to be compared to her pantry, just one sniff of which from the crack of that pantry door would make one feel hungry for a week.

"Twas in the pantry that whatever happy such cakes as Rildy could make, such as cakes of butter, the neighbors all date, like a last year's calendar, and no one now takes any interest in them, whatever."

Young man, some of the most beautiful faces I ever saw in all my life were old faces. Some of the most glossy and fairest tresses I ever saw were silvered o'er, with weight of years upon them. Some of the youngest, brightest hearts and lives I've ever found and known I've seen and found in oldest frames.

But as fine and clean as Rildy's dairy room looked it was not to be compared to her pantry, just one sniff of which from the crack of that pantry door would make one feel hungry for a week.

"Twas in the pantry that whatever happy such cakes as Rildy could make, such as cakes of butter, the neighbors all date, like a last year's calendar, and no one now takes any interest in them, whatever."

Young man, some of the most beautiful faces I ever saw in all my life were old faces. Some of the most glossy and fairest tresses I ever saw were silvered o'er, with weight of years upon them. Some of the youngest, brightest hearts and lives I've ever found and known I've seen and found in oldest frames.

But as fine and clean as Rildy's dairy room looked it was not to be compared to her pantry, just one sniff of which from the crack of that pantry door would make one feel hungry for a week.

"Twas in the pantry that whatever happy such cakes as Rildy could make, such as cakes of butter, the neighbors all date, like a last year's calendar, and no one now takes any interest in them, whatever."

Young man, some of the most beautiful faces I ever saw in all my life were old faces. Some of the most glossy and fairest tresses I ever saw were silvered o'er, with weight of years upon them. Some of the youngest, brightest hearts and lives I've ever found and known I've seen and found in oldest frames.

But as fine and clean as Rildy's dairy room looked it was not to be compared to her pantry, just one sniff of which from the crack of that pantry door would make one feel hungry for a week.

"Twas in the pantry that whatever happy such cakes as Rildy could make, such as cakes of butter, the neighbors all date, like a last year's calendar, and no one now takes any interest in them, whatever."

Young man, some of the most beautiful faces I ever saw in all my life were old faces. Some of the most glossy and fairest tresses I ever saw were silvered o'er, with weight of years upon them. Some of the youngest, brightest hearts and lives I've ever found and known I've seen and found in oldest frames.

But as fine and clean as Rildy's dairy room looked it was not to be compared to her pantry, just one sniff of which from the crack of that pantry door would make one feel hungry for a week.

"Twas in the pantry that whatever happy such cakes as Rildy could make, such as cakes of butter, the neighbors all date, like a last year's calendar, and no one now takes any interest in them, whatever."

Young man, some of the most beautiful faces I ever saw in all my life were old faces. Some of the most glossy and fairest tresses I ever saw were silvered o'er, with weight of years upon them. Some of the youngest, brightest hearts and lives I've ever found and known I've seen and found in oldest frames.

But as fine and clean as Rildy's dairy room looked it was not to be compared to her pantry, just one sniff of which from the crack of that pantry door would make one feel hungry for a week.

"Twas in the pantry that whatever happy such cakes as Rildy could make, such as cakes of butter, the neighbors all date, like a last year's calendar, and no one now takes any interest in them, whatever."

Young man, some of the most beautiful faces I ever saw in all my life were old faces. Some of the most glossy and fairest tresses I ever saw were silvered o'er, with weight of years upon them. Some of the youngest, brightest hearts and lives I've ever found and known I've seen and found in oldest frames.

But as fine and clean as Rildy's dairy room looked it was not to be compared to her pantry, just one sniff of which from the crack of that pantry door would make one feel hungry for a week.

"Twas in the pantry that whatever happy such cakes as Rildy could make, such as cakes of butter, the neighbors all date, like a last year's calendar, and no one now takes any interest in them, whatever."

Young man, some of the most beautiful faces I ever saw in all my life were old faces. Some of the most glossy and fairest tresses I ever saw were silvered o'er, with weight of years upon them. Some of the youngest, brightest hearts and lives I've ever found and known I've seen and found in oldest frames.

But as fine and clean as Rildy's dairy room looked it was not to be compared to her pantry, just one sniff of which from the crack of that pantry door would make one feel hungry for a week.

"Twas in the pantry that whatever happy such cakes as Rildy could make, such as cakes of butter, the neighbors all date, like a last year's calendar, and no one now takes any interest in them, whatever."

Young man, some of the most beautiful faces I ever saw in all my life were old faces. Some of the most glossy and fairest tresses I ever saw were silvered o'er, with weight of years upon them. Some of the youngest, brightest hearts and lives I've ever found and known I've seen and found in oldest frames.

But as fine and clean as Rildy's dairy room looked it was not to be compared to her pantry, just one sniff of which from the crack of that pantry door would make one feel hungry for a week.

"Twas in the pantry that whatever happy such cakes as Rildy could make, such as cakes of butter, the neighbors all date, like a last year's calendar, and no one now takes any interest in them, whatever."

Young man, some of the most beautiful faces I ever saw in all my life were old faces. Some of the most glossy and fairest tresses I ever saw were silvered o'er, with weight of years upon them. Some of the youngest, brightest hearts and lives I've ever found and known I've seen and found in oldest frames.

But as fine and clean as Rildy's dairy room looked it was not to be compared to her pantry, just one sniff of which from the crack of that pantry door would make one feel hungry for a week.

"Twas in the pantry that whatever happy such cakes as Rildy could make, such as cakes of butter, the neighbors all date, like a last year's calendar, and no one now takes any interest in them, whatever."

Young man, some of the most beautiful faces I ever saw in all my life were old faces. Some of the most glossy and fairest tresses I ever saw were silvered o'er, with weight of years upon them. Some of the youngest, brightest hearts and lives I've ever found and known I've seen and found in oldest frames.

But as fine and clean as Rildy's dairy room looked it was not to be compared to her pantry, just one sniff of which from the crack of that pantry door would make one feel hungry for a week.

"Twas in the pantry that whatever happy such cakes as Rildy could make, such as cakes of butter, the neighbors all date, like a last year's calendar, and no one now takes any interest in them, whatever."

Young man, some of the most beautiful faces I ever saw in all my life were old faces. Some of the most glossy and fairest tresses I ever saw were silvered o'er, with weight of years upon them. Some of the youngest, brightest hearts and lives I've ever found and known I've seen and found in oldest frames.

But as fine and clean as Rildy's dairy room looked it was not to be compared to her pantry, just one sniff of which from the crack of that pantry door would make one feel hungry for a week.

"Twas in the pantry that whatever happy such cakes as Rildy could make, such as cakes of butter, the neighbors all date, like a last year's calendar, and no one now takes any interest in them, whatever."

ent, unitedly they tip the beam a little beyond the six hundred pound mark. Well, what did they, let me tell, after all were assembled. The great company sat down, and all fell to holding their hands and twisting their thumbs, meanwhile many cast sly, furtive glances at their neighbors. The greenest ones stared the pictures out of countenance that hung on the walls and looked at the ceiling with several of the other things very embarrassing to themselves and also to other people around them.

Well, then hear, the great majority did no such thing. They had come and were there they realized to help make others happy. Just what God, brother, put you and me into the world for, and at the same time catch at a few sunbeams and capture them ourselves for ourselves, as here we pass along. The saintly looking old ladies took out their knitting and stung back in alcoves and in softened lights that crept in and irradiated the spacious rooms of the old mansions, soon fell to talking with this friend or that, whom they had not seen and met indeed for many a long day.

Do you think old people don't take any comfort, don't have any good times? If any one entertains any such an idea as that, I wish they had been able to glance in upon the scene in that house and to have noted the happy faces of the people assembled there; and heard the stories they told of yore time, or the days when they were young; listened to the old-time songs they sang, such as Hull's Victory, Silk Morant's Daughter, Taxation of North America, etc., etc.; saw the smiles irradiating their faces as the old ladies knit and the old gentlemen smoked away placidly and contentedly out of old-fashioned T. D.'s to be seen those shaking heads and old heads and saying one to another, "Behold a silly, giggling age, a fast living people. These shall have an early and untimely end."

I wish I might stop and call up here to your mind a few minor details, but these must pass, step aside for things of greater moment.

About four in the afternoon somebody went and opened the pantry door, then somebody else began laying the snowy linen on the long table, tables mind you made especially for this occasion out of freshly sawed boards in which the healthful, fragrant odor of the pine still lingered.

Then and there was brought forth the snowy light bread, the pies and cakes, a little later on the sparrows, the turkey and the goose, then the vegetables in great white deep hollow tureens, accompanied by home-made cranberry and cider apple sauce to add to the vegetables a more appetizing taste, and milk and meat and vegetables and fruit all fresh and sweet, so unlike, so different from what one gets in town. This is only a few of the many dishes. I cannot stop to tell you all but there were many more.

The supper ready all sat down and when 'twas over Parson Brown rose and said, "Since coming here to-day dear friends, two of our most loved and worthy parishoners have requested that we perform for them the marriage rites of our church. And as my 'gild mon' Edom and his wife have gladly given free use of their spacious parlor for this most pleasant feature of the day and as the bride and groom are quite old enough to take their own minds in regard to such a matter, do you Miss Hetty Edom and you Mr. Reuben Toothaker take your places."

So Reuben and Hetty married were, and in the same room, too, where 75 years from that very day, Hetty Edom, made bride had first seen the light of morn.

And so the old folks' party ended in a marriage and each and every one who had been there as a guest went home, at nightfall well satisfied with himself, with his God and with his neighbor man.

DANA HARLOWE.

In the Daily Grind.

The strife to maintain a position of supposed dignity may be wearing us out. Really nobody cares whether we keep three maid, whether we live in a brownstone front or a one-story cottage or a wee bit of a flat on an obscure street. Don't let us be driven for such silly causes as mere show and display.

Vanity of vanities, saith the preacher about this. When "the world is too much with us late and soon," and "getting and spending, we lay waste our powers," it is a good plan to go some-where else than to nature's heart.

The old home up country, the little brook where we may fish for trout, the apple tree which bears seek-no-further, the sunny south chamber in a farmhouse where an old friend will take us in, may prove our blessed rest and cure.

If we cannot go from home let us be quiet here; silent when we are disposed to the volubility of excitement, patient when people are trying, forgiving even to ourselves when our inner heart is clear.

For even to the wind-blown coast comes days of blue sky and the golden light and the softly caressing waves; and such days may come to you and to me, dear troubled hearts, if we will let them, says Lady Home Journal.

One who loves music will often be soothed and rested by listening to an orchestra or even to the performance of the home daughter who does not try to be scientific or ultra-classical, but just "tunes" in the twilight runs her fingers over the keys, and plays tender little melodies which steal the trouble from the heart and bring back sweet memories of youth and freedom from care. An occasional day is paid to the driven person who in the mimic world, temporarily forgets the vexations of the actual.

Each for herself must find her remedy but none of us must overlook the everlasting fact that whatever happens the things are the real things, and the kingdom of Heaven is within us.

Only a month more of vacation for teachers and pupils, but most people are glad to get two weeks.

At the annual reunion of the old 14th Maine at Long Island last week, those in this section who attended were R. G. Beak, East Hobron; N. S. Greenwood, and L. J. Morton, Mechanic Falls; E. I. Spofford, South Paris; John T. Maxfield, Naples.

FOR YOUR ROOFS

If you believe in Quality:
if you want the best for your money; if you want Durability and Satisfaction, you will insist upon having and will not take an imitation. Paroid is admittedly the standard roofing of the world. It has taken us nearly 100 years to perfect it. Any one can lay it, in any kind of weather—and it "stays put." Weather proof, wear proof, contains no tar. Slate color. Complete roofing kit in each roll. Before you repair or build send for FREE SAMPLE and book on "Building Economy." It will save you money.

PAROID ROOFING

For Sale By
H. L. HORNE, Norway, Me.

SEND FOR FREE SAMPLE

The Bible in School.

It is not a compulsory school law, but "custom has become a law" by privilege for most teachers to have some Bible exercise every morning. A teacher who succeeds with school studies generally has the tact to make a five-minute Bible lesson interesting and instructive. If the teacher reads indifferently a few verses a Psalm, Romans, or Hebrews, it is dull to the pupils and they soon become glad when that formal way is over every morning. Carefully selected stories, miracles, or parables may be made very helpful in gaining an education. The class is reading Evangelist at the past spring term and one of the scholars asked the meaning of "Hung their ladder of ropes like the ladder of Jacob." The teacher admitted that she didn't know.

Charles A. Dana, the famous editor of the New York Sun, advised all young people to study the literature, style, and stories of the Bible. Daniel Webster was called the Biblical concordance of the U. S. Senate, because he used logical extracts from the Bible to give weight to his great speeches.

Place the lesson upon the board during the day for the next morning. If the school is not accustomed to your plan, name the book, chapter, and verse; but soon, if interested, they will prefer to find the answers, if you only name the book. Have them copy these lessons in a little note book of their own. Most of your pupils will find the answers at home and next morning they will be elated to tell you. Here are a few examples of hundreds.

Lesson 1.
1. Find the word school. Acts 19.
a. How many times found in the Bible?

Lesson 2.
1. Where is the Lord's Prayer found? Matt. 6.
a. How many words in it?
b. Just as many as what?
c. As books in the Bible.

Lesson 3.
1. What about the sparrows? Matt. 10, 29.
2. What about the hairs of your head? Matt. 10, 30.

Lesson 4.
1. The Liberty Bell.
a. Where is it now?
b. On what particular occasion was it rung?
c. What inscription upon it? Lev. 25, 10.

Lesson 5.
1. Two persons tell a lie. Acts 5.
a. What about?
b. Their names.

Lesson 6.
1. Noah's Ark. Gen. 7.
a. How many persons went into it?
b. Who were they?

Lesson 7.
1. Where was the first telegraph?
a. In 1844 from Washington to Baltimore.
b. What was the first message sent? Numbers 22, 30.

